Miracle Baby!

Over 48 hours after a massive earthquake devastated eastern Turkey, rescue workers pulled Azra, a two week old baby girl, from the rubble. Her uncle declared her survival a miracle – along with the survival of Azra’s mother and grandmother. Jubilant celebrations of life in the midst of terrible suffering, death, and destruction – joy in the midst of sorrow. And the whole world (through Reuters, CNN, Fox, etc.) celebrates with them – and that’s the way it should be – people of all ages, genders, nationalities, races, and religions – all celebrating the Miracle Baby!

The same universal sentiment that we share concerning the life of a baby should also unite us in our disdain, shock, horror, even disbelief concerning the deaths of tens of thousands babies every month in the massive international earthquake called abortion.

Marc Lilge wears a T-shirt asking: “WOULD IT BOTHER US MORE IF THEY USED GUNS?” Yes, I think it would, but now it’s behind closed doors, protected by HIPPA, and we say we hate it, but what are we really doing to stop it – what are we really doing to save babies like Azra?

www.180movie.com makes some eye opening comparisons between the turning of blind eyes in Nazi Germany to the blind eyes being turned in America today. Two of those eyes might even be mine!

Pray, vote, write, march, volunteer, counsel, witness, object, encourage, cry, weep, and wail – let’s wake up, let’s open eyes, let’s realize that they might as well be using guns – the violence and the result is the same.
